W. Ray Williams, Editor

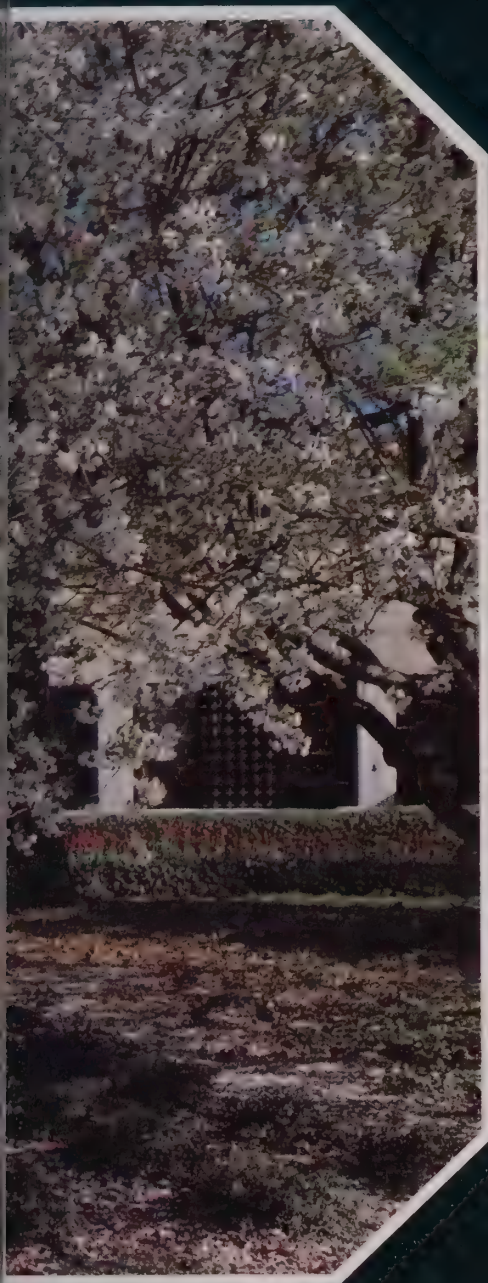

Americans reacted to the turmoil of previous decades with the disillusionment, apathy, and aimlessness of the seventies. With the coming of the eighties, optimists have determined to overcome past failures and find new direction. God's Word, however, is the only source of true direction: "Through thy precepts I get understanding: therefore I hate every false way. Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path." Basing its teaching upon the Word of God, Bob Jones University directs students to the right path in a bewildered world.

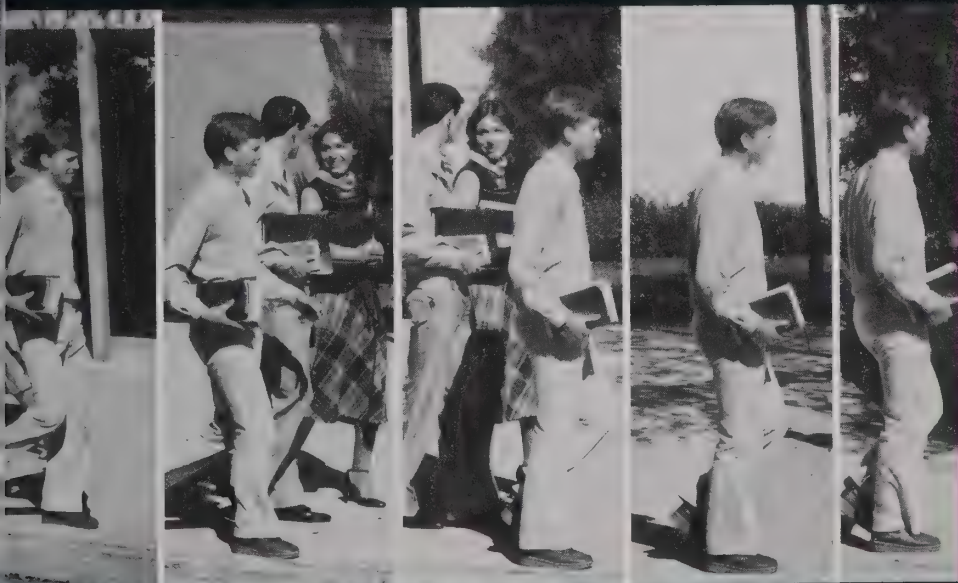

I will instruct thee and teach thee in the way which thou shalt go: I will guide thee with mine eye." Psalm 32:8

"Trust in the Lord with all thine heart;
lean not unto thine own understanding. In all thy ways acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy paths."

Proverbs 3:5-6

"Thomas saith unto him, Lord, we know not whither thou goest; and how can we know the way? Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life; no man cometh unto the Father, but by me."

John 14:5-6

With the helpful guidance of the University's faculty, thousands of graduates have gone forth to honor the Lord with lives of earnest dedication. The 1980 Vintage staff wishes to recognize the outstanding contributions of one of the University's finest educators. Touching students of every academic area, she has led hundreds to a better understanding of practical Christianity. With compassion and warmth, she attends to the spiritual, social, and educational needs of her students. Generously giving herself, she has presented to the Lord, her students, and the University a timeless gift of godly service. In honor of her zealous dedication and her consistent Christian testimony, the 1980 Vintage staff dedicates this book to...

Inter-Society Council sets an impressive leadership standard among the student organizations of the campus. Presidents and vice presidents from all forty literary societies plan and administer the activities of many special campus events. Rush week, student elections, Turkey Bowl festivities, and the Valentine's Day and Founder's Day banquets are just a few of the many school service projects handled by the Inter-Society Council. This year, ISC provided cars and students to aid the local community in a door-to-door campaign for the Heart Fund of America.

Rush Week

An enthusiastic atmosphere pervades the campus as rush week activities begin. Literary societies realize their extensive influence in the emotional, social, and spiritual development of new members; therefore, they vigorously attempt to impress each new student with their particular leadership abilities. Rush week activities are capped with evening initiations which include everything from simple parties to the mellow mood of candlelight ceremonies.

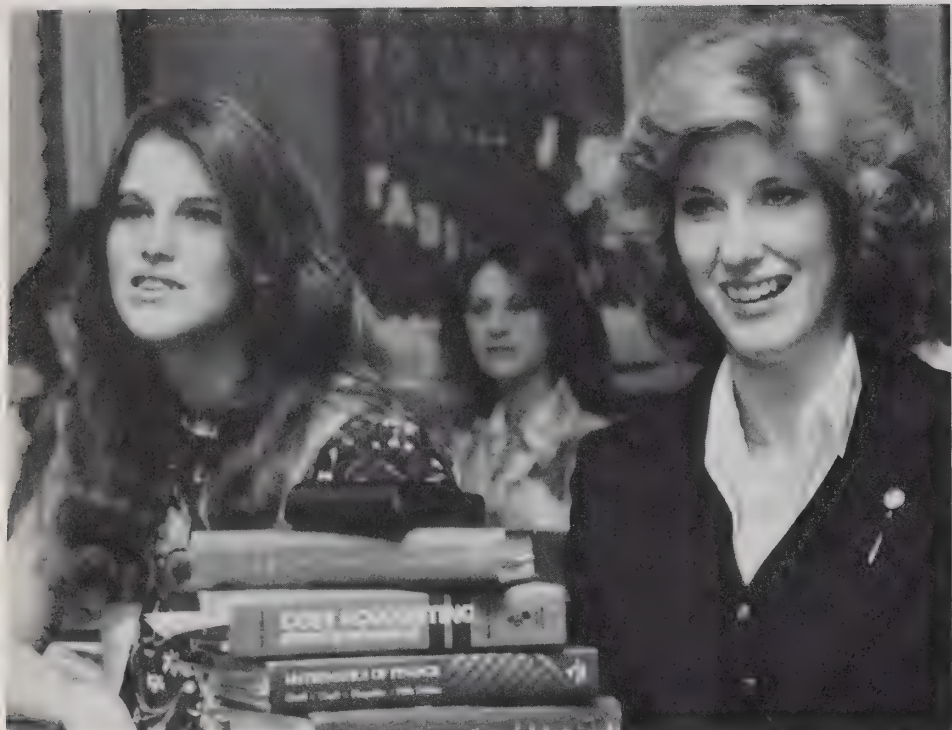

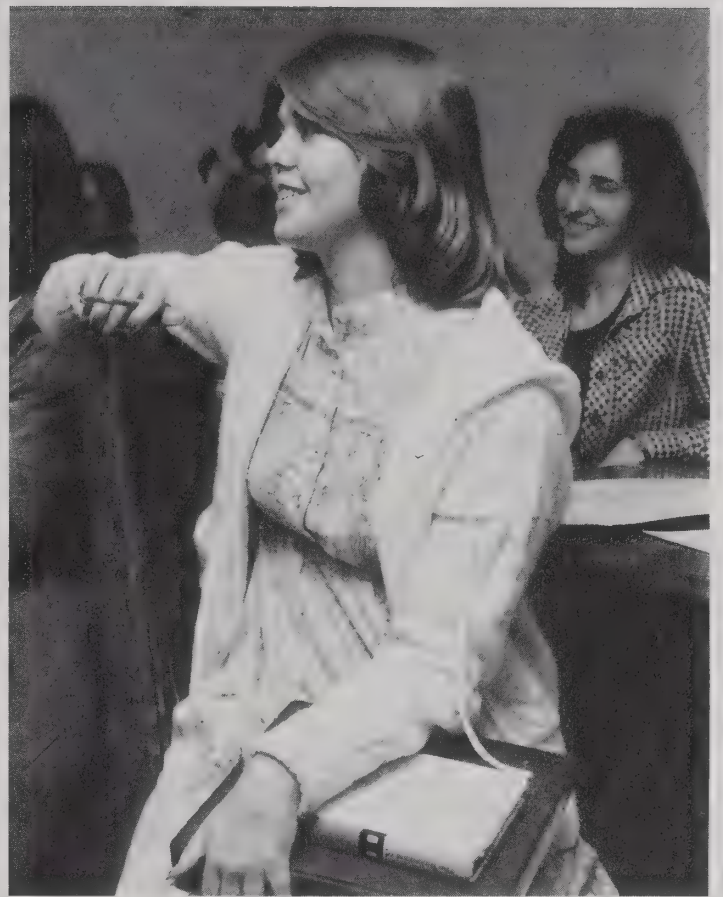

Meetings

Weekly meetings provide a relaxing time for literary societies to conduct business and reflect upon God's Word. These weekly meetings are designed to stimulate maximum society spirit through maximum involvement. Fraternal bonds are established between society members as they are brought together through mutual goals. An evening prayer meeting is held each Wednesday night to encourage spiritual unity and productivity among society members.

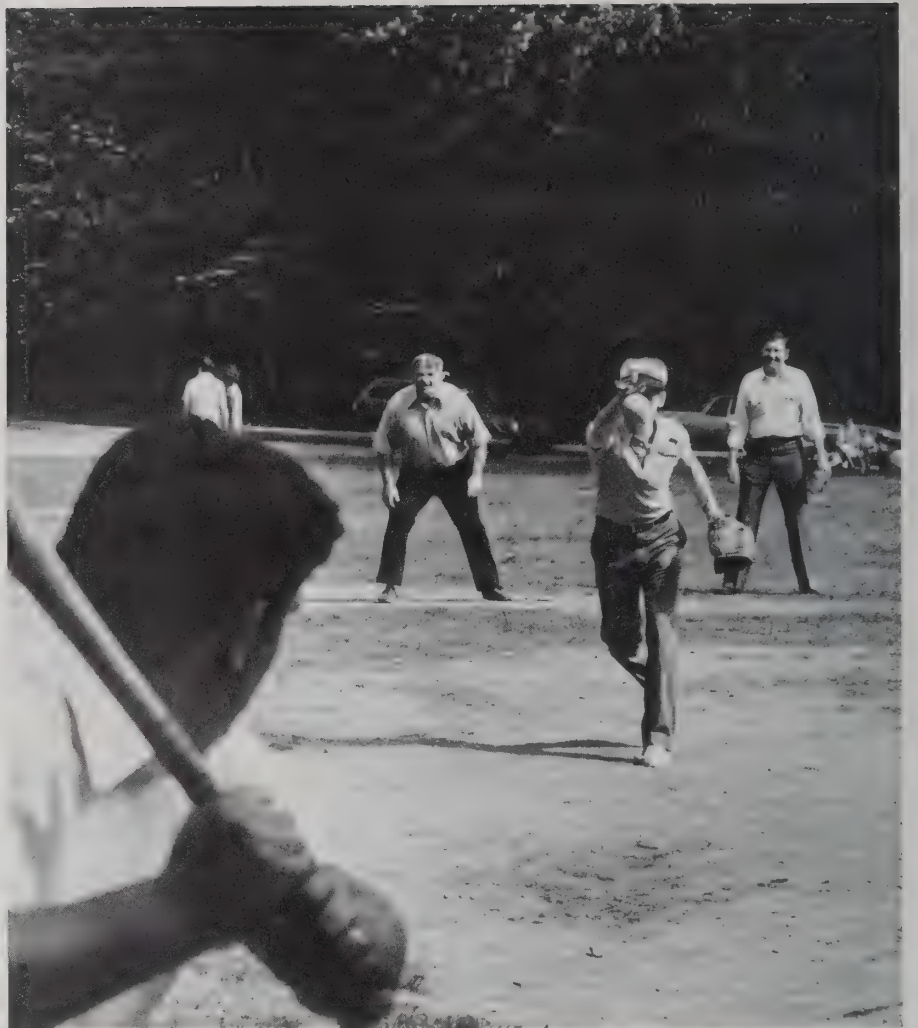

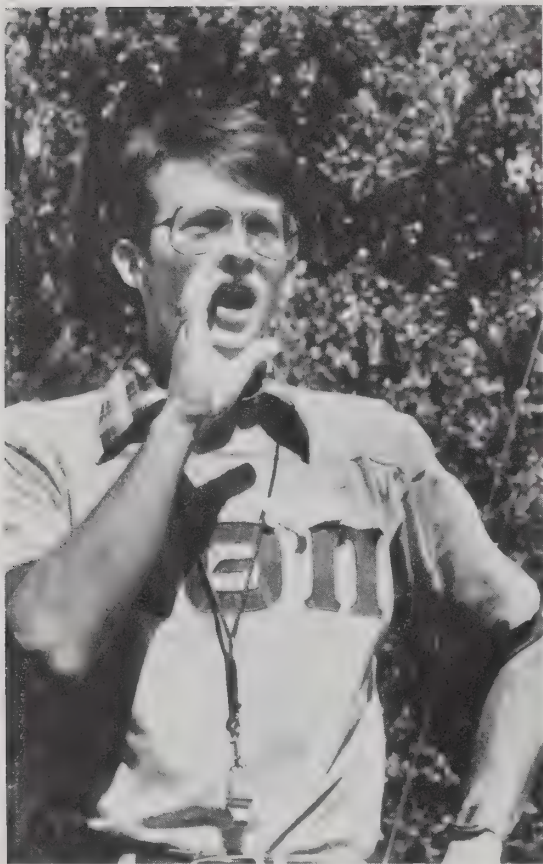

Outings

A spirited game of couples soccer, a quiet walk along the lake, a noisy crowd waiting in line to fill their plates—memories of an outing. Each year, every society organizes both a stag and a dating outing, giving its members an opportunity to enjoy a relaxing afternoon away from the hectic life of the classroom.

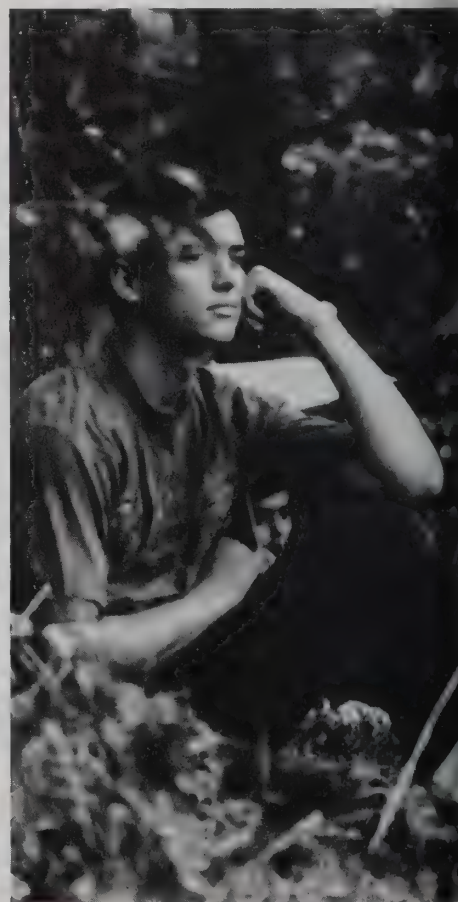

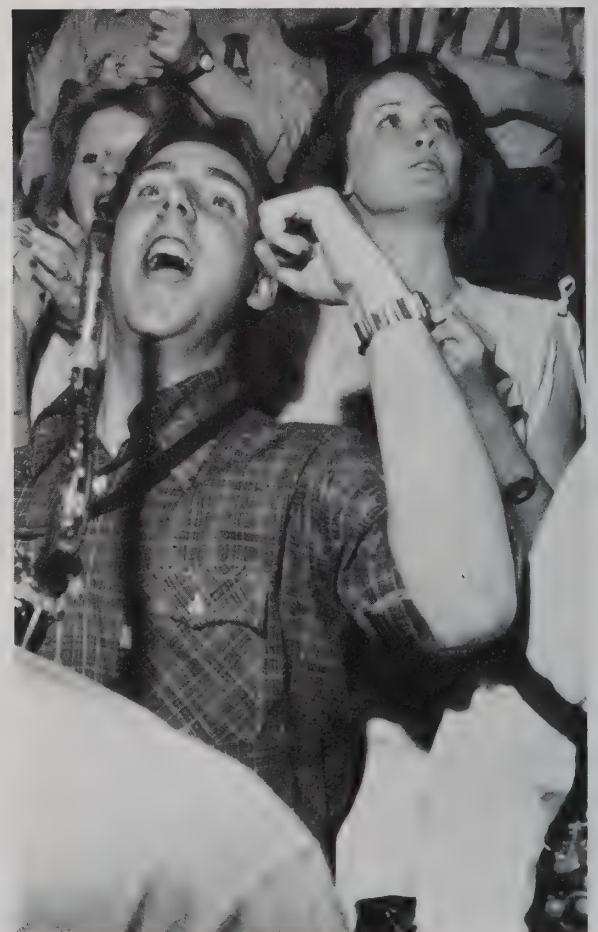

Competition

Pep rallies, soccer games, cheering crowds, debates, action, competition. With members united in the spirit of competition and lending their enthusiastic support, literary societies organize various teams to compete in intramural sports and in debate. Striving for the title of "champion," students learn to work together in a cooperative, godly relationship.

SPORTS

Turkey Bowl

The Alpha Omega Delta Lions and the Epsilon Zeta Chi Tornados met in the Thanksgiving Day Turkey Bowl to determine the 1979 soccer championship. Both teams showed strong teamwork as they established a controlled game of passing, and Zeta Chi opened the scoring midway through the first half with a goal by Bruce Cox. The Lions fought back to even up the score as Steve Wilson dropped a long shot into the net, and then took the lead early in the second half when Dick Stratton pushed in his first goal. Omega clinched the game with Stratton's second goal, a blistering twenty-yard shot, and then wasted the clock to win the championship by a score of 3-1. The Most Valuable Player award for the season went to Dick Stratton, the captain of Omega.

Basketball Championship

In an action-packed game, the Alpha Theta Razorbacks edged out the Pi Kappa Cobras to win the 1979 Basketball Championship. Alpha Theta opened the scoring with the accurate shooting of Mark Campbell and Larry Hunt, and the Razorbacks used their early lead to control the play and end the half leading 46 to 33. In the second half, Clarke Spain of Pi Kappa led a determined Cobra rally, but the Razorbacks fought back and held out to win the game 84 to 77. High scorers included Larry Hunt (37) and Mark Campbell (31) for Alpha Theta, and Clarke Spain (36) for Pi Kappa.

Extension Ministries

Students eagerly spread the news of the gospel of Christ: extension ministries emphasize local evangelism but include all of South Carolina and parts of several surrounding states. Women students often specialize in ministries for the young and the elderly, and many young men preach the gospel in local churches or in various informal situations. Other extension programs include residential visitation, church assistance, street counseling, Bible clubs, and other forms of personal evangelism. Musical groups also take part in extension programs, ministering to congregations through prayerfully selected instrumental selections and songs. In every instance, students clearly present their message of truth: that the way of the cross leads home.

Mission Prayer Band

Mission Prayer Band is designed to lead students to an awareness of missionary needs. Directly after the evening meal, men and women students gather separately in fourteen geographical prayer groups to pray for the specific needs of missionaries around the world. On Saturday evenings, all prayer groups combine in the Concert Center to view films or programs that give students insights into mission work.

Student Union

Turning every face toward Jesus, Student Union serves as a catalyst to make complete our worship of the Lord. Directed and produced entirely by students, these Sunday afternoon meetings encourage all students to continue in the paths of righteousness. Through devotional and inspirational songs, testimonies, and challenges, young hearts receive spiritual strength to continue their daily walk with Christ.

Speakers

The spring Bible Conference is one of the most highly anticipated events of the year. The University family enjoys the special spiritual refreshment it brings. Many faithful alumni return to the campus during Bible Conference to enjoy the services and to take part in the Alumni Association meetings and class reunions, this year's reunions being held by the classes of '55, '60, '65, and '70. The sound preaching of godly men is presented three times daily from the Founder's Memorial Amphitheater, satisfying the spiritual hunger of God's people. Speakers break the bread of life to renew spiritual vigor in the souls of God's children.

Alumni Association

The Alumni Association represents loyal graduates of Bob Jones University. Through the Association, former students continue to support and serve their school. This year saw the completion of the five-year Physical Education Project, which included building new handball courts and resurfacing the athletic track and the tennis courts. It is through projects such as this, and, more importantly, through continual prayer, that Bob Jones alumni uphold the University.

Association of Christian Teachers

Striving for excellence, the Association of Christian Teachers promotes Biblically sound advances in Christian education. At monthly meetings, which emphasize and illustrate practical and useful concepts, supplemental brochures and pamphlets are distributed as beneficial teaching aids. Students view with keen interest the challenges of education; therefore, meetings are often optimistic to encourage future teachers. As a result, ACT has become the University's largest coeducational organization.

The Students' Wives Fellowship sponsors monthly meetings to give the wives of students refreshing times of fellowship, to acquaint them with the opportunities open to them on campus, and to challenge and encourage them as they prepare with their husbands to serve the Lord.

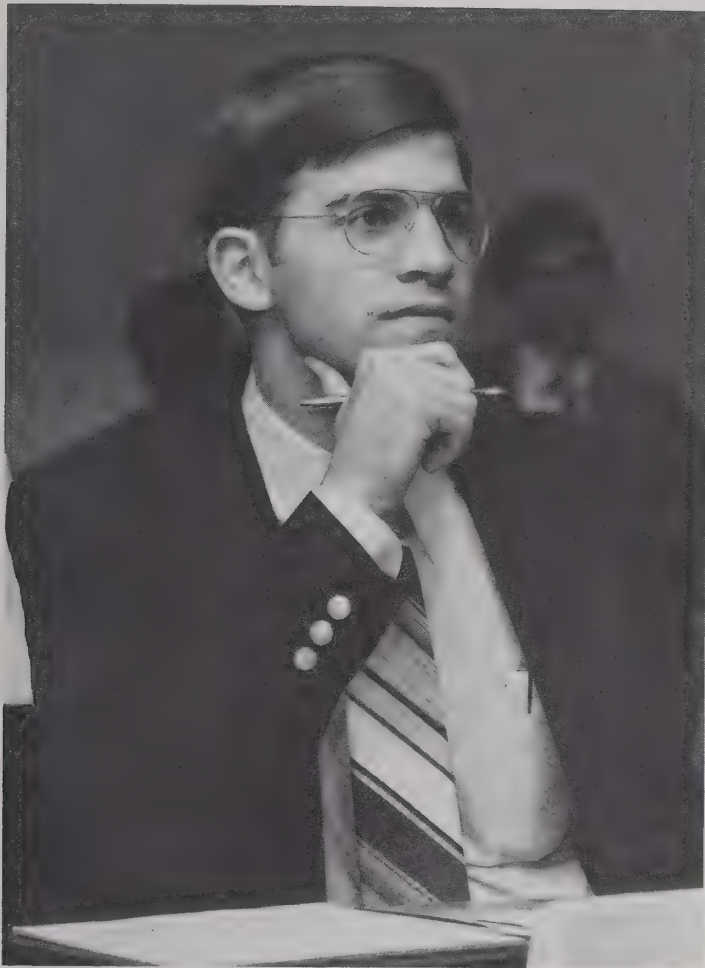

Language Club

The bi-monthly meetings of the University Language Club supplement classroom learning of the German, French, and Spanish languages. These informal meetings often yield insights into the lives of foreign peoples. Meetings include interesting encounters with foreign philosophies, religions, customs, and even foods. The University Language Club annually presents a performance of foreign plays to give students extended examples of foreign language dialogue. The Language Club completes a fine program of modern language studies.

University Writers' Forum

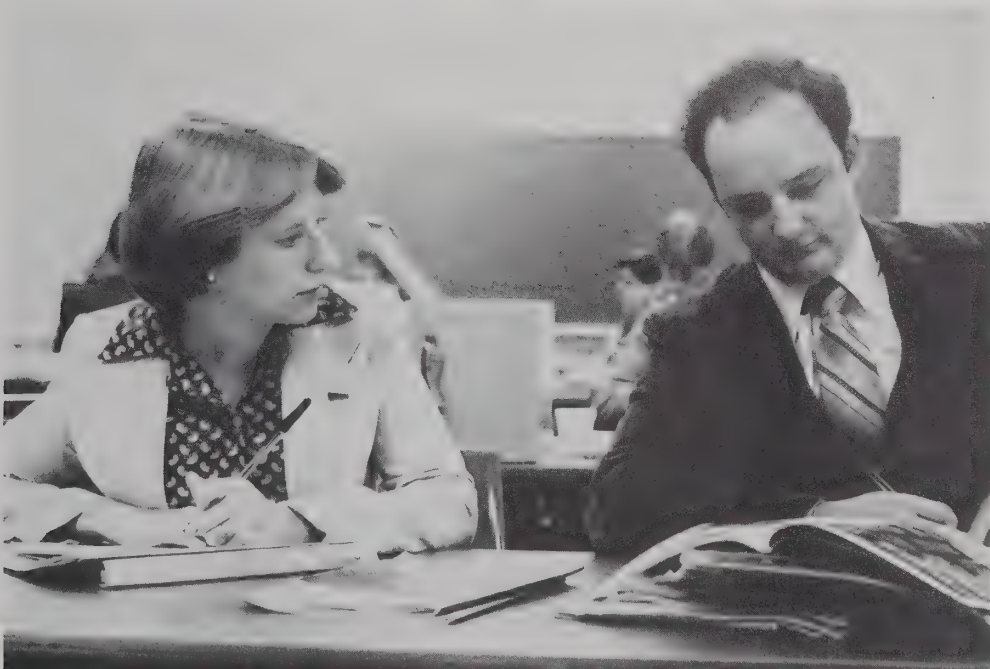

The enthusiastic approach of the University Writers' Forum leads interested students into new and fresh concepts of literary composition. Through cooperative action and group involvement, the Forum provides helpful direction for beginning writers. The monthly Forum meetings often take special notice of new opportunities for Christian writers, including new Christian publication markets and occupational information. An annual writing contest creates good-natured competition among members and gives them an additional opportunity to show their best literary talents.

Intercollegiate Debate

Debaters preparing, spending long hours in the library researching, developing their arguments, then speaking carefully in explanation or swiftly in rebuttal, arguing and gesturing. Interested students can gain valuable experience in forensics by exercising their talents with the intercollegiate debate team. Competing in a number of important tournaments in the Southeast, the members of the team excelled in the debates, while making use of many excellent opportunities to witness for Christ.

University Home Economics Association

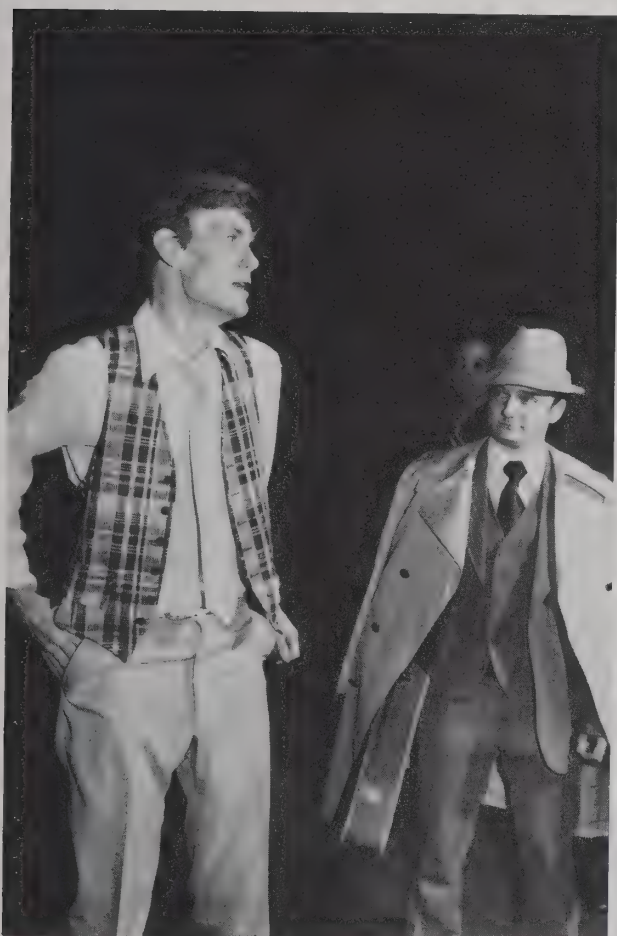

Meeting with the University Home Economics Association, home economics majors enjoyed another busy year. Participating in a program which included a cake decorating seminar, a Christmas workshop, and the annual convention of the South Carolina Home Economics Association in Columbia, South Carolina, the members of the Association sought to glorify God through their major, claiming the virtuous woman of Proverbs 31 as their example of godly service.

On two Saturdays of each month, dormitory students unite for a meeting of the student body. Annually elected officers select programs tailored to the social and spiritual needs of dormitory students. Socially, entertainment is provided through various student performances, including the annual talent show. Spiritually, Biblical truth is presented through guest speakers, inspirational films, and short dramatic productions.

Concerts, Plays, and Recitals

A popular but little-publicized side of campus entertainment is the series of concerts, plays, and recitals presented every year by students and faculty. This year, the University music faculty collaborated in a series of lectures and recitals on "Romanticism: The Final Years," and the University Symphonic Band once again gave its traditional outdoor concerts, playing entertaining selections of light concert music. In student productions, senior fine arts students presented their recitals in both speech and music, and two of the advanced speech classes produced contemporary dramas as special class projects.

A Tribute to the Founder

On September 15, 1979, a portrait of Dr. Bob Jones, Sr., joined those of other famous Alabamians in the State Department of Archives and History. The following article appeared in the Montgomery Advertiser/Alabama Journal, September 16, 1979.

Religion

Portrait of evangelist Bob Jones unveiled

BY STAN BAILEY, News staff writer

MONTGOMERY—Shortly before the turn of the century, a small boy sat under a brush arbor near Dothan and listened to a revival preacher.

The words sank deep within him and struck a responsive chord.

In the preacher's words, he was "born again."

The decision he made that day not only changed his life, but has changed the lives of thousands of others since then.

The boy left that brush arbor to become one of Alabama's best-known evangelists—Bob Jones.

Jones died in 1968 at the age of 84, but his work in Christian education lives on, still changing the lives of thousands from all over the world.

Bob Jones University in Greenville, S.C., is a living monument to his life.

Until Saturday, the hall of famous Alabamians in the state museum in Montgomery made no mention of Jones.

But special ceremonies at the Department of Archives and History corrected the omission with the unveiling of a portrait of Jones, painted by Dorothy Quest of Tryon, N.C.

Jones' son, Dr. Bob Jones Jr., chancellor and chairman of the board of Bob Jones University, and his grandson, Dr. Bob Jones III, president of the university, were on hand for the event, which was marked by remarks from 91-year-old Mrs. Bob Jones Sr.

Jones and his family were well known in Alabama before they left more than half a century ago to found the university that bears his name.

"My dad was vigorous and strong, but yet very tender," Bob Jones Jr. said in Montgomery Friday.

"He would preach for a week, hitting sin really hard, before he would give the invitation."

"By the second Sunday night, people would be crying to be saved," he said.

"You couldn't do that today, because people don't want to come to revival but one or two nights."

THE ELDER Jones' crusades were held throughout Alabama, but one of the best known was held in Montgomery in 1921.

"In those days, the advance man would go in, and in cooperation with local churches, they would erect a Roman basilica type of structure without any walls," Jones said.

The one in Montgomery, erected across the street from the Capitol where the Department of Public Safety now sits, would seat 5,000 persons.

When Jones got up to preach the first sermon of that revival, the big wooden tabernacle was packed to the brim and another 1,000 couldn't get seats.

"Dad wouldn't take an offering for himself when he preached in Montgomery," Jones said.

The elder Jones never competed with local churches for "members." Although he grew up a Methodist, his services were non-denominational, and converts were encouraged to go back to their local churches.

"In those days there was very little liberalism," Jones said.

"All the churches believed and taught the Bible."

"But as Dad continued his evangelistic work, he ran into a lot of people who went to church schools and lost their faith."

Jones set out to counter the "liberal" doctrines he met by setting up a Christian university, staffed by the best academically qualified people he could find, yet who also believed in the "fundamental" doctrines of the Bible.

A land developer offered him the land to set up the college in Florida, and he left Alabama to do it.

He went to Panama City in 1927, but six years later Bob Jones College closed its doors [in Florida].

Then Jones went to Tennessee.... He took over an old Methodist church building, and students flocked to its doors.

When word got out that he was looking for space to expand, several cities put in a bid for him to come there.

"There were groups in Orlando and Atlanta who asked him to come, but he decided on Greenville, S.C., because they said they needed the spiritual impact of the university," Jones said.

THE FOUNDER'S son grew up in Alabama and looks back on those days as the start of his own ministry.

When he was 14, he volunteered to help the chaplain at the old Kilby Prison in Montgomery.

"Working with prisoners surely is a good way to learn a lot about the world," Jones says.

As a boy, he had decided to follow his father's footsteps.

"My dad was converted when he was 11, and he started preaching when he was 14," Jones said.

His own son did the same thing.

"Before he was born, I used to talk to my grandmother about my son, and she asked me how I knew it was going to be a boy," Jones said.

"I never told him, and just before he was graduating from the university I asked him what he was going to do."

"He said if the board would have him, he'd stay on and help out at the university."

Jones III has been president of BJU for the past [eight] years.

"He has a boy who will be 13 this December," Jones says.

One of these days, he'll have a decision to make, too.

Founder's Day

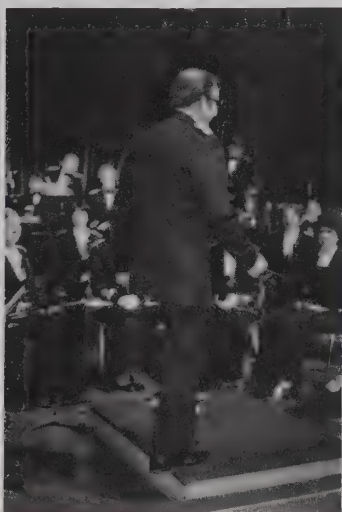

On October 30, the University family set aside the day for special remembrance of Dr. Bob Jones, Sr., evangelist and founder of the University. In a commemorative chapel service, several faculty members recalled memories of Dr. Bob, likening him to a tool in the hands of God. Mrs. Jones, Sr., and Dr. Bob Jones III, the University President, added personal words of testimony. The day fittingly ended with the traditional candlelit banquet, held in honor of this great man of God.

Vespers

Two times each month, the Sunday afternoon Vesper programs minister to the University family. Faculty, staff, and students glorify God through a creative variety of Christian musical and dramatic selections, inspiring believers to seek new dimensions of Christian service. Most of the programs are directed by the fine arts faculty; however, this year's schedule also included Doug Whitley's graduate project: Arena, an original drama, which dealt with the spiritual struggles of Christians seeking political careers.

Vespers Choirs

The Bob Jones University music groups actively praise God through spiritually vibrant performances. While praising God with beautiful and edifying music, faculty, staff, and students enjoy the privilege of increasing their musical talents. Performances include Vespers, University concerts and services, as well as numerous appearances in the Greenville community. This year, the University's sixty-piece orchestra was featured in the fall concert of romantic music, as well as Brahms's Requiem and the spring opera. Members of the Concert Chorale participated in the faculty music series, which presented music of the Late Romantic era. In addition to the Sunday worship services, the Church Choir also sang in Brahms's Requiem. During Thanksgiving weekend, the Oratorio Society performed Handel's Messiah, a traditional campus favorite. The directors of these groups are John Reinebach, University Oratorio Society; William McCauley, Church Choir; Roger Buchanan and John Reinebach, the two Vespers choirs; Gail Gingery, Radio Choir; Dwight Gustafson, Concert Chorale; Judith Gamble, Women's Chorus; Paul Jantz, Trombone Choir; Alexander Fields, Woodwind Choir; and Karen Kuehmann, Flute Choir.

Opera

In March, the Bob Jones University Opera Association presented Camille Saint-Saen's popular opera, Samson and Delilah. The plot follows the downfall of the Hebrew hero, Samson, as he succumbs to the pleading of Delilah and reveals the signet of his God-given strength. Samson's deceitful mistress reveals his weakness to the Philistines, who put out his eyes and later chain him within their heathen temple. Samson's strength is renewed, leading to the climactic destruction of the temple. Samson and Delilah was directed by Dr. William McCauley of the University's fine arts faculty.

Guest Artists

For many years, guest artists have added to the continuing success of the University's concert, opera, and drama series. This year, internationally acclaimed Misha and Cipa Dichter opened the series with a pleasurable piano concert. The outstanding Vienna Chamber Orchestra followed with a performance highlighting well-known works of Mozart and Haydn. In March, the Bob Jones University Opera Association presented Camille Saint-Saen's dramatic Samson and Delilah with soloists from the Metropolitan and other leading opera companies: Richard Kness, tenor, as Samson; Joann Grillo, mezzo-soprano, as Delilah; and Richard Fredericks, baritone, as the High Priest of Dagon. In the spring, Dick Poston performed a colorful dramatic monologue based on the famous Lincoln-Douglas debates.

Classic Players

During the Thanksgiving week, Mr. Ron Shields directed the University Classic Players in their presentation of Shakespeare's famous tragedy, Romeo and Juliet. Two students, Brad Payne and Janet Yost, played the leading roles in this great drama of feuding families and secret love. In the spring, Mr. David Mook directed The Tempest, the comedy which many regard as Shakespeare's farewell to the stage.

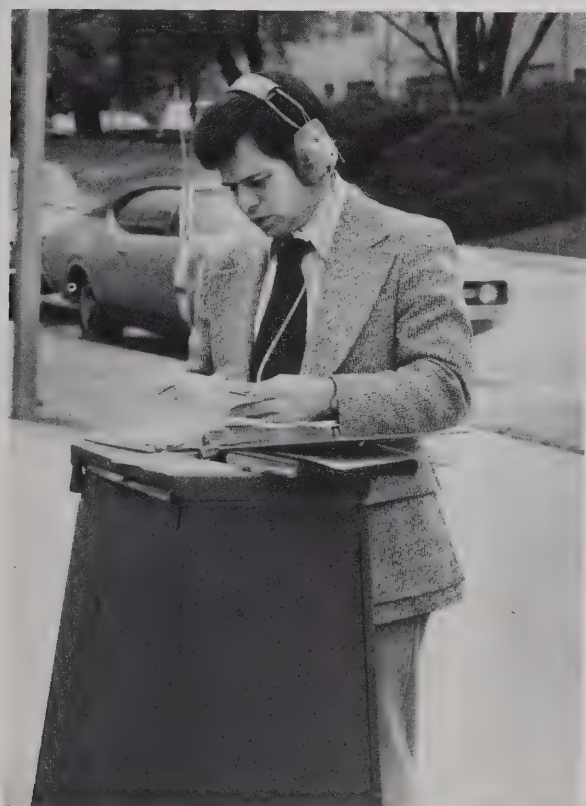

WBJU

To University dormitory students, WBJU means information and entertainment. To radio and television majors, it means a unique and practical experience to supplement classroom learning. Through WBJU, prospective broadcasters learn the ins and outs of station management, from giving routine news and weather reports to covering live sporting events and producing special programs such as the biannual "White Glove Special." WBJU offers an unusual opportunity to learn through service.

Show My People, the University's nationally shown television program, saw God's blessings in another successful year of production. Produced entirely on campus, forty half-hour programs presented strong, Scriptural truths to our needy nation, both through the preaching of Dr. Bob Jones III and through the singing of music groups such as the Television Choir. A number of chapel messages were also televised, and one special program featured Dr. Bob with the thousand-member ministerial class of Bob Jones University. Opening the Bible before the nation, Show My People reminds Christians of their God-given privileges and responsibilities.

Art Gallery

From the impressive front lobby hung with Flemish tapestry to the thirty galleries exhibiting sacred art, the Bob Jones University Art Gallery displays one of the most important university art collections in America. Tracing the development of sacred art through six centuries, the collection presents the movement of Italian, Dutch, French, Flemish, and Spanish art from Gothic to Renaissance to Baroque, as well as eighteenth and nineteenth century European painting. Included in the building is a fine display of antiquities and material illustrating Biblical times, from the collection of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bowen.
